Foxfire Printing has been recognized as one of the fastest growing , privately-held companies in the nine county Philadelphia region for the 2nd year in a row, placing 92nd on the list. John Ferretti CEO, credits the 14% compounded annual growth from 2000 to 2002 to the continued investment in digital technology and the commitment to being a single source solution for their customers needs. The growth can also be attributed to the acquisition of the Baltimore Sign Company in December 2002, a company with over 40 years experience in large format printing.

The ranking in the "Philadelphia 100", based on the companies sales growth over the past three years is sponsored by the The Forum, The Wharton Small Business Development Center and The Philadelphia Business Journal. Foxfire Printing was honored at The 2003 Philadelphia 100 Awards Dinner and Ceremony held on October 23,2003 at the Hyatt Regency at Penn's Landing in Philadelphia.

The company with corporate headquarters in Newark, Delaware employs over 175 people with a printing facility in Upper Marlboro, Maryland and sales offices in North Carolina, Pennsylvania and California.
